Attorney III: Agency attorney assigned to California’s first-in-the-nation comprehensive emissions cap-and-trade program.

- Drafted regulatory language, advised staff throughout the development of the proposal and supporting documentation, and coordinating with stakeholders to address third-party concerns with program implementation.
- Worked with the California Attorney General to defend challenges to the offsets provisions of the cap-and-trade program.
- Regularly briefed Chair Mary Nichols on developments to the cap-and-trade program.
- Ensured adoptions of regulations and amendments meet the requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act.
- Ensured that CARB’s state public policies were reflected in legally enforceable and supportable regulations.

- Consulted with other agencies (California Public Utilities Commission, California Energy Commission and California Independent System Operator) to ensure the impact of the cap- and-trade program does not negatively affect energy supply in California.
- CARB legal representative to the Western Climate Initiative (WCI), which worked to create a cap-and-trade program for the Western United States and four Canadian provinces. Issues addressed within WCI include incorporation of a non-profit entity, procurement, jurisdictional issues as well as policy issues related to the legal obstacles of both United States and Canadian laws.
- Worked to link with other jurisdictions implementing cap-and-trade programs, including drafting agreements for information exchange and linking terms and conditions, and confer with other subnational jurisdiction counsel to evaluate potential linkage with the cap-and- trade program, including sector-based offset credits.
- Primary legal counsel reviewing offset protocols, including implementation and adoption of new compliance offset protocols.
- Worked extensively with staff to draft regulations and the staff report supporting recovering monies spent by CARB to implement AB 32 through the administrative fee regulations. Participate in workshops and hearings to address legal issues related to regulations.
